I get the distinct feeling that you are labeling people as racist, subjecting people to be accused of being racist without any evidence of the act, and proving the case before a court of law, may not be your intent, but it is a perception from reading fake news.

Is this policy based on factual discrimination in Salem, or is this an effort for political purposes.

In Vietnam, I commanded hundreds of people of all colors. They were all courageous, brave, and subjected them to conditions of a horrible political war. I have always treated people with all due respect based not on their skin color, but on the content of their character.

Just curious.
