Interests & Experiences

What do you feel you can contribute as a board or commission member?

I bring a combination of legal expertise, community leadership, and a deep commitment to service that I believe aligns closely with the mission of Salem's boards and commissions. As an attorney with experience in public policy, nonprofit governance, and local government law, I understand the importance of transparency, accountability, and balanced decision-making. Beyond my professional background, I have a long history of civic involvement, from serving with East Salem Rotary, the Parks Advisory Board in Dallas, participating in Leadership Salem, the Oregon State Hospital Advisory Board, and many others, which reflects my dedication to making our community stronger and more connected. I approach public service with a mindset of "service before self" and a practical, solutions-oriented perspective that values collaboration and thoughtful stewardship of public resources.

What prompted your interest in applying to serve as a board or commission member?

I'm applying to serve because I believe civic leadership starts with engagement at the local level. Over the years, I've had the privilege of working with a variety of community organizations and public bodies, and I've seen firsthand how thoughtful participation can shape Salem's future for the better. As someone who lives and works here, I care deeply about ensuring our city's decisions reflect both integrity and inclusion. Serving on a board or commission allows me to give back in a tangible way, by contributing my legal, policy, and organizational experience to help address real challenges and opportunities facing Salem today.

Please explain how your education, professional, personal, or volunteer experience and knowledge qualify you to serve on the board(s) or commission(s) for which you are applying.

My background as an attorney, educator, and community leader has given me a well-rounded perspective on the issues that affect Salem's residents and businesses. Professionally, I practice law in Salem with a focus on helping small businesses, nonprofits, and families navigate complex legal and policy matters. This work has strengthened my understanding of municipal processes, public finance, and the balance between regulatory requirements and community needs. In addition to my legal practice, I serve as President-Elect of the East Salem Rotary and am a graduate of Leadership Salem, which deepened my appreciation for the many systems that make our city function. I have volunteered on numerous boards and commissions at the local level since moving to Oregon in 2019 (see resume). I also teach business finance at Chemeketa Community College, where I emphasize practical problem-solving and ethical leadership. Across all of these roles, I've developed skills in collaboration, public communication, and consensus-building that I believe are essential for effective service on any board or commission. I care deeply about Salem's future and bring both a professional discipline and a community-minded spirit to the work.

List any experience you have with volunteering for the City of Salem, your neighborhood association, or other public bodies organizations.

Question applies to Civil Service Commission

Please describe your experience working with employment laws or other human resources functions, such as recruitment and selection, labor relations, compliance, etc.

As an attorney, I have advised clients on matters involving employment law compliance, workplace policies, and organizational governance. My work includes reviewing and drafting employment agreements, evaluating independent contractor classifications, and ensuring compliance with both Oregon and federal labor standards. In my legal practice, I also assist nonprofits and small businesses with developing fair hiring practices, volunteer agreements, and personnel policies consistent with state and local requirements. Beyond my legal experience, I have managed and participated in recruitment and selection processes for staff, interns, and volunteers in both professional and community settings, including through the East Salem Rotary Club and local nonprofit boards. These experiences have strengthened my understanding of equitable hiring, workplace culture, and the importance of transparency and consistency in personnel decisions.

Question applies to Historic Landmarks Commission

In your opinion, why is historic preservation important for the city of Salem?

Historic preservation matters because it maintains Salem's sense of identity and continuity. Our historic buildings and neighborhoods reflect the city's cultural and architectural heritage, and preserving them helps ensure that growth respects that context. Thoughtful preservation supports economic vitality, sustainability, and civic pride by keeping Salem's character intact while allowing it to evolve.

Question applies to Salem Cultural and Tourism Promotion Advisory Board

In your opinion, what do cultural amenities such as Bush House, Deepwood Estate, Historic Elsinore Theatre or the Hallie Ford Museum of Art contribute to our community and quality of life?

Cultural amenities like Bush House, Deepwood Estate, the Elsinore Theatre, and the Hallie Ford Museum enrich Salem's quality of life by connecting people to art, history, and shared experiences. They strengthen our community identity, attract visitors, and create spaces where culture and creativity thrive. Having performed at the Elsinore with the Salem Symphonic Winds in recent years, I've seen firsthand how these venues bring people together and inspire pride in our city's cultural life.

Question applies to Salem Cultural and Tourism Promotion Advisory Board

In your opinion, are there any opportunities in Salem to improve its image as a tourist destination?

Salem has a strong foundation for tourism. It has a historic downtown, the riverfront, vibrant cultural institutions, and proximity to the Willamette Valley wine region, but we can do more to present these assets under a cohesive brand. The city has an opportunity to define itself as "Oregon's Capital and Wine-Country Gateway," linking our government, cultural, and natural landmarks into one inviting identity. Simple improvements like coordinated signage, wayfinding, and beautification at city gateways can help visitors feel welcomed and oriented from the start. We can also strengthen tourism through collaboration among our cultural, historic, and entertainment venues. A unified "Cultural Corridor" that connects sites like the Elsinore Theatre, Hallie Ford Museum, Bush House, and Deepwood Estate, with shared marketing, passes, and coordinated events, would make Salem more appealing to visitors and residents alike. Coupled with expanded riverfront programming, seasonal festivals, and improved evening activities downtown, these efforts would help position Salem as a more dynamic and memorable destination in the heart of Oregon.
