ISSUE:

Should the City Council approve the slate of candidates for the City of Salem's Revenue Task Force, as recommended by the Board and Commission Appointments Committee?

RECOMMENDATION:

Approve the slate of candidates for the City of Salem's Revenue Task Force, as recommended by the Board and Commission Appointments Committee

FACTS AND FINDINGS:

At their December 11, 2023 meeting, the Salem City Council approved a charter and a budget for a 20 to 30 member Revenue Task Force.

The purpose of the Revenue Task Force is to explore new, additional revenue sources and adjustment to fees to sustain those services that do not have a dedicated revenue stream consistent with the motion adopted by City Council that created this Task Force. The Task Force's work will be carried out in parallel with the work of the Budget Committee and City Council as they consider amendments to the 2024 adopted budget and formulate the proposed 2025 budget based on revised revenue projections.

On January 9, 2024, the Board and Commission Appointments Committee met to consider almost 160 applicants to the Revenue Task Force. The Committee took into consideration nominations, from within the applicant pool, made by the Mayor and Council. The Committee also strived to meet intent of the Task Force Charter, and considered the overall composition of the group for geographic diversity, representation of key stakeholder groups, lived experience, and other demographic characteristics.

Task Force Charter. The Task Force charter states that the Revenue Task Force should be broadly representative of the diversity that makes up our community including residents and business owners from all City wards, with a variety of lived experience, at varied life stages, and of varied ethnicity and backgrounds. Specifically, the group's composition should - at a minimum - include:

- Community members at large: Salem residents or business owners
- Two representatives from each ward, nominated by City Council members, and two at-large representatives nominated by the Mayor. Ward/at-large representation may overlap with other affiliations.
- Chamber of Commerce representative
- Business representative
- Salem 350 representative
- Latino Business Alliance representative
- City employee union representative
